our children are more violent than ever.i attribute it to the violence they view daily on tv, movies etc.there is no way that i believe that you do not realize this. i for one wonder if a dollar is more important to the fcc then our childrens welfare. personally, i hold each of you responsible for the filth, violence, and mockery of family, God and country that is allowed daily on tv.

Sincerely,

Chairman Powell:

Dear Sir,

Please do not take your position for granted. You are in a position that can help to determine how our children's future can be, and please do the right things.

Children imitate a lot of things they see without knowing some are just fictions or made-up stories. We educators try hard to teach them to solve problems in a peace making way and yet a lot of TV program does the opposite way teaching them to fight for a little things. The influence from the pornography is even worse. Many studies have shown once children or even adults are exposed to porns they can be addicted to the kind of pictures. The influence can lead to rape, crime and even killing.

Yes, indeed, people have their choice to make. They can either choose to watch or not to watch the kind of junk. But as officers you also have your responsibility not to have this kind of junks shown on TV. I beg you dearly to eliminate the violent and porn programs to help our society and our next generation to head to brighter, healthier and positive future. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Keena Yang

I am concerned about the increasing amount of violence on t.v. There is too much unnecessary violence and it does effect the viewing population, especially the younger viewers (children and teens) as well as young adults. Even some older adults try to copy what they see or seem to think it's o.k. because they see so much on t.v. Our society is more violent now than it was 50 years ago. For the safety of our country the t.v. violence should be replaced by clean comedy and family friendly shows especially before 9:00 p.m.

Sincerely,

Sandy Hechst
